GOP Women May Form New Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges of election illegalities and threats to form a renegade rival organization were renewed today in the wake of Gladys O'Donnell's election as president of the National Federation of Republican Women.

Defeated candidate Phyllis Schlafly of Alton, Ill., who says she didn't want to let her backers down, appealed the election to GOP National Chairman Ray Bliss.

She also indicated the prospect of forming a breakaway, rival GOP women's group.

Mrs. Schlafly scheduled a news conference today to discuss the protest she is filing with Bliss over "the illegality and irregularity" of the election procedure at the two-day convention which ended Saturday.

Mrs. O'Donnell, Long Beach, Calif., businesswoman, pilot and veteran in GOP politics, won by a vote of 1,910 to 1,494 for Mrs. Schlafly, 42-year-old mother of six who wrote the 1964 campaign book "A Choice Not an Echo."

Fifth Fatality Is Recorded

MOTORIST DEAD — Robert J. Smith of Columbus lost his life when this car skidded out of control Saturday night on Route 316, struck a utility pole and plunged end-over-end through a muddy field between South Bloomfield and Millport. The victim was thrown from the car. (Sheriff's Department Photo)

Robert J. Smith, 29, Columbus, became Pickaway County's fifth traffic fatality of the year 9:50 p. m. Saturday when he was killed in a one-car crash on Route 316 just east of South Bloomfield.

Smith apparently was killed instantly. He was pronounced dead by deputy coroner Dr.

claimed the election was stolen by unfair election and parliamentary procedures.

Mrs. Schlafly wouldn't go quite so far. But she maintained "there's a cloud over the election," mainly because her ballot security men could not watch the voting machines set and sealed before the voting.

She said the procedure for credentialing delegates made it possible to "bring people in off the street and vote them."

The convention ended in an uproar. Spectators had to be cleared from the huge Sheraton Park Hotel ballroom when they interfered with the voting.

When it was all over, attractive, brunette Mrs. Schlafly acted like a victor in defeat. She went from the convention floor to a private rally with about 1,000 of her cheering supporters, ready to form and head a rival — and outspokenly conservative — organization if they wanted her to.

In fact, a Schlafly backer from Illinois, Ruth Bateman, said a charter already had been obtained for an "American Federation of Republican Women."

The usually staid and untroubled national federation — an organization of 500,000 Republican women — was rocked by the whole experience.

Mrs. O'Donnell, a calm, soft-spoken woman, who has been a delegate to national GOP conventions since 1940, was expected to neutralize the federation in the pre-convention campaigning of 1968. She wants the federation to embrace every spectrum of Republican thinking — moderate, conservative and liberal.

Whether it will have a rival remains to be seen.

Appalachian Meet Set At Burr Oak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Burr Oak State Park near Athens will be the site of the Appalachian Regional Commission's annual meeting June 12-14, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced Monday.

Burr Oak Lodge was opened in the park 10 days ago by the governor.

Rhodes also announced that ground would be broken June 13 in conjunction with the conference for the Tri-County Vocational Technical School at Nelsonville.

Attending the conference will be representatives of the 13 states in the Appalachian region. In addition to Ohio, they are: West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New York, Alabama, Tennessee, Virginia, Maryland, Georgia, Mississippi and North and South Carolina.

Albert Giles, head of the Ohio Office of Opportunity and state director of urban affairs, will be in charge of the three-day convention with Rhodes as host governor.

Prospect Dim For East-West Trade Growth

Mansfield Says
LBJ Is Willing To Delay Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects for congressional action this year on President Johnson's proposal to expand East-West trade are dismal, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today.

Indicating he had discussed the matter with the White House, Mansfield said in an interview he thinks President Johnson is willing to have his proposal explored in hearings this session and await possible later action on it.

Johnson has said his East-West trade proposals are "carefully designed to be used only when it is clear that our interests are served."

His program would give the same tariff treatment on non-strategic goods to the Soviet Union and Eastern European nations as are granted to others if the action would further U.S. interests.

Mansfield said the Senate probably won't get around to considering the controversial anti-poverty program until late June or early July.

Johnson has recommended a $75 million increase in the poverty appropriations made last year. Sponsors want to increase this amount, but critics want some changes made in the program's administration.

The Senate has scheduled a vote Tuesday on a proposal by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to make a presidential campaign financing plan which became law last year inoperative after Sept. 15 unless Congress passes a bill in the meantime specifying safeguards on how the money would be spent.

If action on this proposal clears the way for passage of a House-approved measure to restore tax incentives for business, Mansfield said he will call up military draft legislation immediately after that.

The Democratic leader said he plans a conference with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen to fix a date for the Senate to take up a proposed resolution of censure against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. It may come up some time next week, he said.

Manry made his solo voyage from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England, a distance of 3,200 miles, in 78 days.

AMA Convention In Atlantic City June 18-22

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The American Medical Association announced today its annual convention will be held in Atlantic City June 18-22.

An estimated 35,000 persons, including 12,000 physicians, are expected to attend what is traditionally the world's largest medical meeting.

More than 400 papers will be delivered on virtually every medical specialty. The four general scientific meetings will spotlight healing, backache, sex and patient care.

Another highlight will be the installation of Dr. Milford O. Rouse of Houston, Texas, as the AMA's 122nd president, to succeed Dr. Charles L. Hudson of Cleveland, Ohio.

New Strife Hits China

TOKYO (AP) — All newspapers in Peking say growing strife has killed or injured hundreds of persons in Red China's western provinces, including 200 supporters of Mao Tse-tung drowned when anti-Maoists rammed their boat.

Machine-gun fire killed two Red Guard members, a man and a woman, and grenades injured hundreds of other persons Saturday in Chengtu, 950 miles southwest of Peking, said wall posters reported by Japanese correspondents in the Chinese capital.

The reports said previous clashes in Chengtu last week killed 11 persons and injured between 1,000 and 2,400 others. Japanese accounts said the fighting was between extremist and more conservative followers of Communist party Chairman Mao with each side accusing the other of helping President Lu Shao-chi, the chief target of Mao's cultural revolution-purge.

The wall newspaper said south China Red Guards claimed 4,000 Maoists were imprisoned in Chengtu and were fasting. Other reports said rioters poisoned the city's water supply.

The 200 pro-Maoists who drowned were riding a ferry across the Yangtze River at Chungking to attend a rally Saturday when a boat manned by anti-Maoists rammed them, wall posters said.

Eisenhower's Condition Is Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reed Army Hospital announced today that the condition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, hospitalized over the weekend for what is presumed to be a gastrointestinal ailment "continues to improve and he is able to take liquid nourishment today."

Lt. Col. Edward J. Costello, the hospital's public information officer, announced at 10:36 a.m., that the commanding general of the hospital "has advised that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had a comfortable night last night and he slept well."

Costello added in response to questions that he had no information on how long the general would remain in hospital. But he added, "Everything continues to look good."

He said that Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, is with the general.

Costello added he did not know whether the provisional diagnosis of gastroenteritis, announced Sunday, had been changed by the five-star general's doctors.

The hospital official said that unless there was some great change in the situation the hospital did not plan to issue any further medical bulletins until late Tuesday morning.

Newark Without Transit Service

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—This city of 48,000 was without bus service today and City Council schedules a special meeting tonight to deal with the problem.

The City Rapid Transit Co. went out of business Saturday night, citing financial difficulties. The city in the past has indicated a reluctance to take over bus service.

Cab companies early today reported an above normal business.

Foreign correspondents, who are restricted to Peking most of the time, were not able to confirm the wall posters.

Chengtu is the capital of Szechwan, China's most populous province and the home of Communist party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping, an ally of Liu.

The Peking People's Daily cautioned Maoists Sunday against fighting among themselves. It also said criticism — not armed struggle — should be used to topple Liu and his followers.

Red Guards have been reported in the past month to have clashed with conservative Maoists as well as Liu supporters in Tsinghai Province, Tientsin and Peking suburbs.

Viet Troops Hammer U.S. Marine Camp

SAIGON (AP) — Some 1,200 North Vietnamese hammered at a U.S. Marine camp for three hours today before pulling back and leaving 179 Communist dead strewn over a battle-scarred hillside.

Charging beneath a mortar barrage and behind spewing flamethrowers, the men of the North Vietnamese 324B Division smashed into a perimeter defended by U.S. Marines, small detachments of U.S. Navy Seabees, Army Special Forces men and South Vietnamese militia-men.

Unofficial reports from the battlefield said 35 Marines were killed and 89 wounded. The South Vietnamese lost 14 dead and 16 wounded while the Special Forces and the Seabees each had five wounded.

The attack on the new camp near Con Thien, two miles below the demilitarized zone, began with a 200-round mortar barrage at 3 a.m. Coordinated with it were mortar attacks on three other Marine positions below the border zone which wounded at least eight marines.

The attacking North Vietnamese charged under cover of their mortars and flamethrowers to lay bamboo poles filled with dynamite across the camp's

CLEVELAND (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau in Cleveland issued a tornado watch Monday for a portion of eastern Ohio from Lorain through Columbus to the Ohio River at a point 40 miles west of Portsmouth.

North Viet Was Invited To Respond

EDITOR'S NOTE — Renewed U. S. aerial forays into the Hanoi area last month after a prolonged lapse followed the collapse of another sometimes mysterious, sometimes seemingly hopeful peace probe in Vietnam. An AP reporter discloses the details for the first time in the following dispatch.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — For more than four months, from mid-December to late April, President Johnson held U. S. bombers away from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi in an effort to find out whether President Ho Chi Minh would open secret peace talks or take steps to scale down the war.

North Vietnam was informed of what Johnson was doing and was invited to respond.

The story of what happened, beginning last November with a Polish maneuver, now can be told as it is known in official Washington. It has been pieced together in a weeks-long check of various sources. It can be told now because the episode is closed, although officials believe some of the work done may contribute eventually to peace in Vietnam.

Through Polish and other diplomatic channels word was sent to Hanoi last December that if Hanoi would take some parallel step to de-escalate the fighting, the United States would be prepared to make other moves, Hanoi, campaigning to halt all bombing of North Vietnam, never accepted the offer.

The gambit thus failed and two weeks ago U. S. bombers struck again inside the previously forbidden Hanoi circle — 10 nautical miles from the center of the city.

The last previous time the bombs exploded so close to Hanoi's center, their blows fell in the midst of a peace probe initiated by Poland. Polish diplomats claimed that that bombing, Dec. 13-14, wrecked one of the most hopeful approaches to peace in the recent history of the war. U. S. officials refute the claim, but can't be sure.

Out of that failure, however, arose the four-month Hanoi bomb limitation.

Events began with Januz Lewandowski, a Polish diplomat on the International Control Commission in Vietnam.

Late last November Lewandowski went to Hanoi and spent 10 days talking with diplomats and North Vietnamese officials. When he returned to Saigon about Dec. 1, he met secretly with U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the Italian Embassy.

Lewandowski told Lodge he believed North Vietnam was prepared to open secret exploratory discussions with the United States. He did not interpose the condition that the United States would have to call off unconditionally the bombing of the North.

The Polish diplomat gave Lodge a 10-point statement of topics and principles for the proposed talks. The statement constituted a Polish summary of what the United States would be willing to talk about, presumably based on published declarations and previous Lewandowski talks with Lodge. Lewandowski said the North Vietnamese were also willing to talk about these points.

barbed-wire defenses and blow open attack paths.

Smashing through these breaches, the Reds got inside the perimeter at two points, hurling grenades and satchel charges. A team of U. S. Special Forces soldiers and a force of South Vietnamese militiamen. As the fight continued, Marine reinforcements charged up.

Associated Press correspondent Robert Ohman reported the bill was a scene of carnage and destruction. Three tanks were damaged, two halftracks and two trucks burned out and three mounted 40mm cannon torn up by rocket fire.

South Vietnamese headquarters said its militiamen suffered "moderate" casualties.

The attackers failed to reach more than 20 bulldozers the Seabees are using to clear a seven-mile strip below the demilitarized zone as a barrier to North Vietnamese infiltration.

Bodies of the North Vietnamese attackers were strewn inside the perimeter and on the barbed wire around the camp. One Marine squad on an ambush patrol killed 32 as they were retreating from the area.

Although the main Communist force retreated about dawn, Red mortar fire and sporadic contacts continued for some hours.

The Con Thien camp was one of four attacked in what is "Square" — an embattled area below the demilitarized zone that includes Con Thien, artillery positions at Camp Carroll and Gio Linh and the 9th Marine regimental command posts at Dong Ha. The other three all came under severe mortar attacks, and eight Marines were reported wounded.

The attacks indicated that the Communists still harbor hopes of a big prestige victory in Quang Tri Province, at the northern end of South Vietnam, where they have recently made their heaviest efforts. They are believed to have some 35,000 regulars and more guerrillas in the immediate area.

Facing them are some 75,000 U.S. Marines, spread over South Vietnam's five northernmost provinces, two divisions of South Vietnamese troops, and moved north.

The Air Force has been pounding the infiltration routes in the area with repeated B52 raids, and three such strikes were poured into Quang Tri Province Sunday night and this morning — a total of about 500,000 pounds of bombs.

Jaycees officers said they plan to make numerous contacts in their drive to secure additional support. Currently receiving the pledges are Asa Elsea and Dr. Robert Liggett. Both have volunteered to serve until a chairman has been selected, and handle inquiries that might come up.

The pledge effort also received moral support today from two candidates seeking the Circleville Mayor's post in November. Democrat Richard L. Gerhardt and Republican Frank Barnhill. Both said they endorse the Jaycees project and will lend complete support.

Barnhill termed an airport an essential element in the community's growth. Gerhardt said in the years ahead, a growing Circleville will have a heavy demand for an airport facility, noting that it would be a major factor in attracting the kinds of industry needed here.

Market Holds Slim Edge

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained a slim edge on the upside in active trading early this afternoon.

Gainers outnumbered losers about 6 to 5.

Brokers said investors might be discouraged by a decline in both new orders and production in April for the first time in six years.

But they noted that a sharp increase in government spending might be an offsetting factor.

The Dow Jones average of 30 Industrials at noon was up 1.28 at 907.24.

Dear Abby: Chorus of Howls over Commercials

DEAR ABBY: A million as they put such commercials on TV. thanks for printing Nauseated's letter complaining about some of the TV commercials which advertising agencies shove down the viewers' throats. It's high time somebody voiced a complaint.

As a woman of Swedish extraction, I find one coffee commercial extremely hard to take. A young married couple is shown at breakfast. The man takes a sip of coffee after which he registers obvious displeasure. Then the young wife runs tearfully to her neighbor, "Mrs. Olson," a motherly-type. The inexperienced wife begs Mrs. Olson for her "secret" in making good coffee, whereupon Mrs. Olson, in the worst possible Swedish accent reveals that she buys the coffee that is "mountain grown." Heaven preserve us!

ALSO NAUSEATED

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you mentioned how offensive some TV commercials are. My pet peeve happens to be a candy commercial. It shows a man eating a candy bar while he tells how delicious it is. He keeps talking about the candy while he stuffs his face with more and more of it. It is positively revolting!

I have tried to teach my children not to talk with their mouths full, and then they see a grown man doing exactly what I have told them they must never do.

Please tell the candy people that I am one mother who will not buy their candy as long as they put such commercials on TV.

SOUTH BEND MOTHER
DEAR ABBY: I'll bet the people who spend fortunes on TV advertising would be sick if they knew how few people are actually sold by it. In the first place, you get all the products mixed up. They all make the same claims. For instance, I couldn't tell you to save my life which cigarette tastes good like a cigarette should, or which one is longer, or has the real tobacco flavor, is milder, cooler, has the filter largest selling cigarette. After seeing people who would rather fight than switch — and others who happily ate their hats, no one knows which programs are brought to us by which cigarette company.

I have more confidence in advertising I can read and re-read. I don't go for this "now you see it, now you don't," stuff you get on television.

NO SUCKER IN FARGO
DEAR ABBY: A male's way of retaliating to TV advertisers who treat their viewers as morons is as follows:

In all fairness I carefully observe all commercials — once. If the message abuses my sensitivity or mature understanding, I carefully note the product being advertised, and in this way I decide which product not to buy.

My theory: Why should I re-

DEAR ABBY: About TV commercials: I hate to tune in on a TV program and be subjected to a commercial which brings a bunch of screaming kids into my living room. I have a household of my own, and I certainly don't need any more. No one will ever sell me a headache remedy by giving me a headache!

ANTI-NOISE

BE GLAD YOU'RE COOKING WITH GAS!

If you're a man, you probably won't understand a lot of this. But you, lady...

You can spot one of Those Days the moment it starts. You sleep through the alarm so there's a crash-bang panic to get Dad off to work and the kids off to school. Then Junior remembers a list of things for show-and-tell and the sink stops up and so do your sinuses, and the new drapes come C.O.D. and you have 18¢ in the house, and the guy to paint the ceilings shows up a week early, and... You Know.

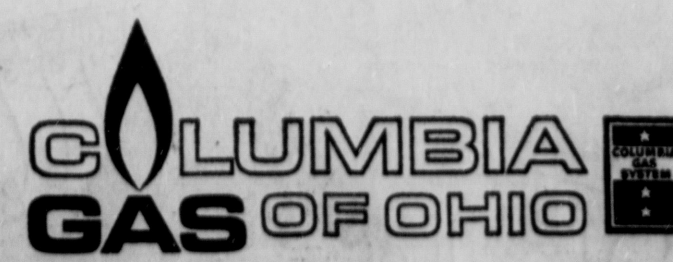

So suddenly it's a quarter to five and guess who calls to say he's bringing someone home? And guess who hasn't even thought about dinner.

When you're cooking with Gas, relax. Gas ranges understand women... especially on Those Days.

Because Gas cooks faster than electricity, Gas ranges stretch your time. Automatic Burner-with-a-Brain® and Oven-with-a-Mind® controls (only on Gas ranges) keep an expert eye on dinner while you repair your face. For instance, I couldn't tell you to save my life which cigarette tastes good like a cigarette should, or which one is longer, or has the real tobacco flavor, is milder, cooler, has the filter largest selling cigarette. After seeing people who would rather fight than switch — and others who happily ate their hats, no one knows which programs are brought to us by which cigarette company.

I have more confidence in advertising I can read and re-read. I don't go for this "now you see it, now you don't," stuff you get on television.

BE GLAD YOU'RE COOKING WITH GAS!

If you're a man, you probably won't understand a lot of this. But you, lady . . .

You can spot one of Those Days the moment it starts. You sleep through the alarm so there's a crash-bang panic to get Dad off to work and the kids off to school. Then Junior remembers a list of things for show-and-tell and the sink stops up and so do your sinuses, and the new drapes come C.O.D. and you have 18¢ in the house, and the guy to paint the ceilings shows up a week early, and . . . You Know.

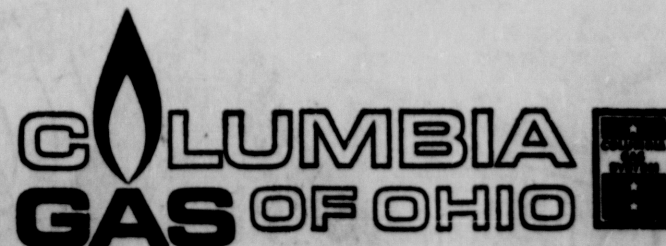

So suddenly it's a quarter to five and guess who calls to say he's bringing someone home? And guess who hasn't even thought about dinner.

When you're cooking with Gas, relax. Gas ranges understand women . . . especially on Those Days.

Because Gas cooks faster than electricity, Gas ranges stretch your time. Automatic Burner-with-a-Brain® and Oven-with-a-Mind® controls (only on Gas ranges) keep an expert eye on dinner while you repair your face. And the true low-heat ability of the keep-warm oven (only on Gas ranges) lets you hold dinner serving-hot until you're good and ready.

Get a modern Gas range. Then, even on one of Those Days, you can count on something going right.

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE. GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE.

V. K. Krishna Menon, the left-leaning international busybody who for years disturbed India's relations with the West at the United Nations, has suffered another defeat, this time in a special parliamentary election in Bombay. If this should terminate his public "service," it will be India's gain.

The downward road for Menon began in 1962 when the late Prime Minister Nehru was forced to relieve him as defense minister after the Red Chinese invaders had routed his ill-prepared forces. He was turned out of Parliament in the February elections and now has taken a worse beating in his comeback attempt.

"A sad end to a brilliant career," commented one Indian newspaper. But in the light of his record, the West may find it difficult to understand what's so sad about it.

IN 1898, A NOVELIST named Morgan Robertson wrote a book called "Futility," which told how a beautiful new ocean liner, chock full of famous personages for its maiden voyage, rammed an iceberg one moonless April night, and sank. Fourteen years later, an actual steamship, under incredibly similar circumstances, actually did go down on April 10, 1912. What's more, the name of the White Star liner that met disaster was, of course, the Titanic. The name of Morgan Robertson's ship, product of his imagination fourteen years earlier, was the Titan!

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of countless best-selling medical tomes, tells about a confirmed lady-chaser who was asked, on his eightieth birthday, if his interest might be waning somewhat. "I guess I'd have to say yes," he admitted reluctantly. "I now pursue the girls only if they're going downhill."

One of Notre Dame's immortal Four Horsemen, "Sleepy Jim" Crowley, liked to talk about the record of his outfit in World War II. "Our boys destroyed six bridges, blew up two ammunition depots, and demolished a key military installation. Then we were sent overseas."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Now that the winter season is over, do you still believe that the "flu" shots were necessary to protect us against influenza? If we recall, the health authorities in the state and national government did not expect a severe epidemic of influenza. Nevertheless, they feel that the "flu" vaccine would be beneficial to the elderly, the chronically sick and the undernourished. These people are considered high risks for contracting influenza and severe complications.

Physicians are often asked, "How do I know that I would have had the flu if I had not had the vaccine?" This is a difficult question to answer because the possibility varies with each individual.

Generally, the opinion of doctors all over the country is that they have seen fewer cases of influenza among their vaccinated patients than among those who had not been given these injections.

If one person has been spared a severe bout of influenza, the vaccine must be considered worthwhile. Many patients develop a special feeling of security and peace of mind after having been vaccinated.

My own experience in the practice of medicine makes me believe that there was a great advantage in taking the vaccine myself and giving it to my family and patients.

How long should a child be confined to bed during a minor illness? There has been a tendency to over-rest a child with simple and uncomplicated illnesses. A fairly safe rule suggests that fever is a good index for the need for bed rest. Twenty-four hours after the fever has subsided is a safe time to allow the child more freedom of motion. This is psychologically good, too, and seems to speed the process of recovery.

Children have a remarkable faculty for finding their own level of activity and rest when they are sick. A rather interesting suggestion has been made by Dr. Hugh Jolly of England, who feels that enforced bed rest may have some disadvantages. This is not far removed from the general attitude of getting patients out of bed as quickly as possible after surgery to prevent complications.

In an article in the Lancet, a medical publication, Dr. Jolly even challenged the idea that children need a specific number of hours of sleep each night. He said, "It is a fallacy which leads to much needless parental anxiety. The only reason for wishing a healthy child to go to sleep is to give his parents their well earned rest."

"To parents who complain that their child won't go to sleep and only wants to play, one must explain that a child learns by play, and that this is the young child's equivalent of school."

I'm afraid that Dr. Jolly is not going to find himself the most popular physician in America with this suggestion, at least not with parents. I

An Innocent People

Ramparts Magazine, which thinks the Cold War is a thing of the past, has made the delightful discovery that America is a terribly unsophisticated country. It speaks about the "New Innocence" which is shocked by the revelations that the CIA did what it could to protect this country back in the days when Nikita Khrushchev was putting missiles into Cuba and double agents were tipping Mao Tse-tung off to the fact that General Douglas MacArthur would not be allowed to bomb those strategic bridges over the Yalu. Well, this country has been innocent, all right. But what of Ramparts' own belief that worries about the Cold War are "as germane as last year's desk calendar?"

If there is no more Cold War, why is the Soviet's Cold Fish Brezhnev so infernally interested in keeping the hot war in Vietnam going until such time as the U. S. betrays every promise it has made to the people of South Vietnam, the South Koreans, the Taiwanese, the Filipinos, the Thais, and the Australians? Why are the East Germans, who have never minded seating former members of the Nazi party in their parliament, carrying on so horrendously about the revival of nationalism in West Germany? Why are the Soviets telling us to get our fleet out of the Mediterranean at a time when "technicians" from Russia have been doing everything they can to help Nasser close the southern end of the Red Sea? Why does Moscow connive with Peking to arm the North Vietnamese to put invasion armies in the South when President Johnson and Secretary McNamara have forbidden Marshall Ky to press for a counter-invasion of the North?

Our innocence is manifest in high places. We are fighting a war in South Vietnam with a hopelessly divided command. Does General William C. Westmoreland have any control of the bombing of North Vietnamese targets from Guam and Thailand? Are the Marines at his beck and call? The worthy general, who is under orders, speaks of fighting a "war of attrition" and says it is the only alternative to a "war of annihilation." Surely he knows there is a third alternative, which is to grapple for the enemy's supply lines and so starve that enemy into submission. This is the classic Napoleonic strategy that MacArthur followed throughout his Pacific campaigns that ultimately isolated Japan and saved the day in Korea at Inchon. It could be repeated in the southeast Asian peninsula if only we treated that region as a whole. But we would have to summon on the courage to close the port of Haiphong and really do something about the Ho Chi Minh trail in "neutral" Laos.

Our clergymen are innocent, too. They know a lot about the Bible as a sacred book. They haven't read the Bible as geopolitics. If they will go back to it, they will discover that the Israelites were always being ground between Babylonians and Assyrians on the north and other menacing people on the south. Whenever Hebrew Statecraft wasn't up to winning protection from either the north or the south captivity loomed.

Al Capp, the cartoonist who has a sense of realism, will know what I'm talking about. The Reverend William Sloane Coffin won't.

ATHLETIC INJURIES

DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH
Chiropractor

It is one of the ironies of life that actions taken with a view to producing a certain definite effect often have a directly opposite result. That which is intended to benefit sometimes harms.

In no category is this more true than in the general field of athletics, games, sports, and similar diversions. Baseball, football, golf, tennis, swimming, and rowing are all properly considered healthful outdoor activities involving physical exercise and exposure to sunshine and fresh air for extended periods, thus calculated to be beneficial to the general health.

Accidents are frequent. In the main this is true, but they all have their casualties, sometimes quite apparent to all spectators, when, as happens quite frequently in football and occasionally in baseball, an injured player must be carried or helped off the field.

There are less evident casualties of all these activities, however; casualties not ascribable to accident, but to the activity itself, and this is equally true of basketball, hockey, running, jumping, bowling, boxing, and wrestling as well. These casualties result from spinal subluxations incurred as a direct sequence of certain bodily postures or movements inherent in the activity in which one indulges, special occupational hazards of a sort.

Twists and sprains. In baseball, for example, the outfielders are most likely to suffer from headaches, and the pitcher from sciatica. Why is this? Simply because the outfielders, who must twist and crane their necks to locate accurately the direction taken by a batted ball, and therefore most subject to cervical (neck) subluxations, while the pitcher, completing his windup and delivering the ball with all the force at his command, is more likely to suffer a lumbar or sacroiliac lesion or a shoulder or arm injury.

In golfers, subluxations are most common in the dorsal region; bowlers often develop sacroiliac slip; boxers suffer most from cervical lesions; while in football, tennis, and hockey, due to the comparative violence of these sports, subluxations may be, and usually are, found along the spine.

The ill effects, which are the products of these subluxations incidental to athletic endeavors, are seldom immediately evident, and when they are manifest rarely afford a clue to their origin excepting to the doctor of chiropractic. Nevertheless, scientific observation over a period of many years clearly establishes the cause.

Many professional ball clubs, football as well as baseball, have found it very profitable to arrange for the full-time service of competent doctors of chiropractic during the playing season to correct or prevent ills that otherwise often keep high-salaried players on the bench.

While professional athletes have mostly come to recognize the spinal hazards involved in their activities and are, as a class, the most constant and regular patrons of chiropractic, this is not the case with most amateurs. Yet the hazards to the amateur are even greater than to the professional who has learned better by experience to protect himself while playing.

Correction is important. Play your game and periodically consult your doctor of chiropractic. This is good advice, even if you indulge in no athletic endeavors, doubly so if you do. Your doctor of chiropractic will detect, and correct, subluxations, however incurred, and arrest or prevent the ill they would otherwise produce.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic.

Why does Moscow connive with Peking to arm the North Vietnamese to put invasion armies in the South when President Johnson and Secretary McNamara have forbidden Marshal Ky to press for a counter-invasion of the North?

I find many of the young in this country to be innocent in a way not comprehended by Ramparts. Some of them don't know the world is round. They scarcely realize that a man named Adolf Hitler ever lived. They haven't ever heard of the British military geographer, Sir Halford Mackinder, who tried to warn the West that if an enemy ever got full control of that part of the Eurasian "world island" running from Czechoslovakia to the Pacific, the people who live along the edges of Eurasia could be pushed into the sea. Working from Mackinder's insights, the German Karl Haushofer said the idea of the consolidated central position to the Nazis. Fortunately, Hitler made the mistake of involving himself in a war on two fronts, so Haushofer's dream (which was Mackinder's nightmare) never came to pass.

The young in western Europe are just as innocent as the young in America. They don't see that if the U. S. folds in southeastern Asia, the Communists will then be absolutely free to turn their attention to West Berlin and West Germany. We aren't receiving any help from western Europe in fighting its fight in southeast Asia, but the yappers who call Johnson a murderer and throw paint at Vice President Humphrey might at least shut up.

Our innocence is manifest in high places. We are fighting a war in South Vietnam with a hopelessly divided command. Does General William C. Westmoreland have any control of the bombing of North Vietnamese targets from Guam and Thailand? Are the Marines at his beck and call? The worthy general, who is under orders, speaks of fighting a "war of attrition" and says it is the only alternative to a "war of annihilation." Surely he knows there is a third alternative, which is to grapple for the enemy's supply lines and so starve that enemy into submission. This is the classic Napoleon strategy that MacArthur followed throughout his Pacific campaigns that ultimately isolated Japan and saved the day in Korea at Inchon. It could be repeated in the southeast Asian peninsula if only we treated that region as a whole. But we would have to summon on the courage to close the port of Haiphong and really do something about the Ho Chi Minh trail in "neutral" Laos.

Our clergymen are innocent, too. They know a lot about the Bible as a sacred book. They haven't read the Bible as geopolitics. If they will go back to it, they will discover that the Israelites were always being ground between Babylonians and Assyrians on the north and other menacing people on the south. Whenever Hebrew Statecraft wasn't up to winning protection from either the north or the south captivity loomed.

Al Capp, the cartoonist who has a sense of realism, will know what I'm talking about. The Reverend William Sloane Coffin won't.

U.S. Decides To Put Up With New Greek Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — After days of confusion and shock, the United States has concluded the only sensible thing to do is go along with the new military regime in Greece.

No official would confirm this or speak for quotation on how the Johnson administration feels about the April 21 military coup in Greece.

Complete silence is observed: Washington does not want to say anything that could hurt a country which — whatever its form of government — is an important ally guarding Eastern Europe's "soft underbelly." But in off-the-record talks with administration officials the following picture emerges:

— The United States, while definitely not enthusiastically embracing the three military officers who now rule the country, will cooperate with their regime while fervently hoping Greece someday will return to a more palatable political system.

— Meanwhile the United States quietly but firmly will pressure Greece's rulers to speed up the process of return to parliamentary rule.

— In accordance with this decision and in recognition of Greece's important role in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military structure, U.S. military aid will continue, although probably limited to items thought necessary for NATO purposes.

The decision is understood to have been reached after considerable agonizing in highest circles and after consideration of these points:

— The administration painfully is aware of growing criticism in this country charging, as Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., put it earlier this week, the United States with "sitting on its hands when a coup is staged by forces of the right."

The administration had to recognize that King Constantine of Greece, who now is cooperating, however reluctantly, with the military regime, had his wings clipped.

Domestic criticism of U.S. reluctance to condemn the military coup is based on a long-standing dislike for military dictatorships, the jailing of political opponents and censorship.

A special reason is the controversial person of Andreas Papandreu, son of former Prime Minister George Papandreu, now reportedly awaiting trial for treason.

The State Department it was learned, is receiving considerable mail protesting the arrest and pending trial of the questing the U.S. government do something on his behalf.

Papandreu — who lived in this country between 1940 and 1959, served in the U.S. Navy, became an American citizen and head of the University of California at Berkeley's economics department was widely known and respected among U.S. intellectuals.

Papandreu returned to Greece in 1959 and became his father's top aide and Cabinet member. His friends in this country dismiss the theory he became a Communist or even a Communist sympathizer. It is acknowledged, however, that he and his father have accepted Communist support during the unhappy two years of continued government crises in Greece.

Phillips Talbot, U.S. ambassador to Greece, is known to have been surprised and distressed by the April 21 coup. But he reportedly nursed the hope that King Constantine would not accept passively what was the accomplished fact.

This hope vanished quickly and now Talbot reportedly agrees with Washington policymakers the United States is limited to pushing quietly for restoration of parliamentary democracy.

Greece and Turkey are the two NATO nations which still need military aid in the form of grants. In fiscal 1966 the United States shipped $78.7 million in military hardware to Greece, but estimates for 1967 were about 10 per cent lower.

Throughout 1966, Greece had received military aid worth $1.9 billion and another $1.9 billion in economic aid from this country.

But economic aid gradually has tapered from over $200 million a year in the late 1940s to just $6.8 million in fiscal 1966.

The State Department's official line still is that the U.S. aid program to Greece is under review—the standard formula used in times of crisis.

While it now is acknowledged that military aid must continue because of Greece's role in NATO, the United States is expected to take a hard look on what will be sent.

As one official put it: "We don't like the idea of American tanks pointing their guns at people on the street."

Both Lanes Now Closed on Road

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A massive landslide at the southern end of the Fort Ancient Bridge five miles east of here has forced officials to close both southbound lanes of Interstate 71 at that scenic spot.

Southbound drivers will be routed across the state's highest bridge on one of the two northbound lanes.

One of the southbound lanes was closed April 20 after tons of dirt crumbled from the edge of the berm. Cook said repairs will take at least 90 days.

Junior Women's Club Sponsors CARE Week

Mayor Ben H Gordon has designated May 7-13 as Circleville CARE Week. Sponsored locally by the Circleville Junior Women's Club, the annual program is currently promoting aid to the Philippines.

The Circleville Junior Women's Club, an affiliate of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is comprised of 35 young women from the community. Primarily a service organization, the local club strives to promote the educational and cultural merits of the community, the state, and the nation. It also extends its efforts in the interests of world peace through material assistance to less fortunate parts of the globe via CARE.

CARE, the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere, Inc. is a non profit agency for voluntary assistance to the needy in other lands.

Gateway to Friendship, the junior project of the CFWC, has thus been undertaken in cooperation with CARE. This worthwhile self-help program will aid the people in the barrios (villages of the Philippines to a more productive way of life. It will permit Philippine families who are leaving overcrowded urban areas and unproductive land to settle in the barrios. Trained Filipinos apply their skills to aid this resettlement, but they need outside help to accomplish their purposes.

Contributions will provide livestock and seed to increase food production and construction material for buildings. In addition, the program will provide tools and school to help the Filipinos build toward a better world.

CARE has had an active mission in the Philippines since 1949 and has been responsible for numerous humanitarian projects. These have stimulated them and as a direct result there is widespread activity in many areas with numerous community action programs.

In this work CARE cooperates closely and actively with other local, regional and national groups to produce maximum results. Thus every dollar provided is multiplied many times over.

Mrs. Robert Hedges and Mrs. David T. Hoffman, co-chairmen for the Circleville project, announce that the public will have the opportunity to share in the work of CARE on Saturday, when members of the Junior Women's Club will receive contributions in the downtown area and at various other strategic locations throughout the city.

Mrs. Harry Hill gave a talk and report of the District Conference of WSCS which was held in Newark.

Mrs. Ralph Ankrom gave the secretary report and stated that 4 sick calls had been made. Mrs. McCarty won the Flower Fund gift.

Miss Boldoser gave the treasurer report. A donation was sent to the Campus Fund.

Mrs. Alkire closed the meeting with reading "What's a Mother For."

Members of DKG
Attend Luncheon.

Members of Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society who attended the Alpha Nu Chapter luncheon at the Lancaster Country Club Saturday were: Mrs. James Scott Mrs. Florence Baker, Miss Amy Miga and Miss Jeanette Townsend.

Guest Speaker Slated for Circle 6 Meet

Circle 6 of the First Methodist Church will meet 8 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Wilcy Anderson, 1195 Lone Pine Road.

Dr. V. D. Kerns will be the guest speaker.

Spring Tour Planned by Farm Women

The Farm Bureau Women's Committee's Spring Tour will be held on Wednesday, May 24th. The group will leave the Pickaway County Fair Grounds promptly at 9:45 a. m. and journey to the first stop which will be the Lindenhof Restaurant in German Village. A slide program of the village with full narration will be shown.

After lunch, there will be a bus trip of the village, ending at the Old World Bazaar with an opportunity to browse in this quaint shop.

At 2:00 p. m. the group will tour the Center of Science and Industry. Here the Nickelodeon and the Planetarium will be points of interest.

The group will leave Columbus at 4:00 p. m. and arrive back at Circleville at 4:45 p. m. The cost of the trip includes the luncheon. This year the group is asking that check's be sent to the Pickaway County Farm Bureau office with your reservation. Deadline for reservations is Friday, May 19th. Anyone interested in attending is invited to contact the Farm Bureau Office.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old man with the tart tongue had to stay home today, which he has had to do for months, and let his friends celebrate his 83rd birthday at a Kansas City hotel without him.

Shaking hands in a crowd tires him now. And newspaper pictures of him Sunday, wearing glasses, showed he has an old man's wide-eyed stare. But 20 years ago, as president, Harry S. Truman had a bright, direct, incisive gaze.

Incisive is the word to describe him. It's how he ran the presidency. He never went beyond high school. He considered himself an ordinary man who suddenly found himself in one of the most important jobs in the world.

He said later he simply tried to do his "damndest." But his damndest made him great. Historians are arguing among themselves on how great he was. But he never had any illusions about himself.

He knew he wasn't in the same league with President Franklin D. Roosevelt or Winston Churchill as a speaker, and

DUV Members Hold Luncheon Meeting

The Daughter of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, met recently at Noel's Restaurant on Route 23, for their April meeting, with Mrs. Earl Smith as hostess.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ruth Wignel, Mrs. Clara DeLong was in charge of the business meeting. Plans were made to send donations to the Cancer Fund and the Easter Seal Fund.

A social hour followed. The door prize was won by Mrs. Gertrude Webbe.

Mrs. Clara DeLong will entertain the group Tuesday at her home.

he didn't try to be. He talked to the point, without much eloquence.

If he had been more eloquent, things might have been different for him at home. He might have been able to rally popular opinion better and this in turn might have subdued his enemies and his critics. He had a lot of both.

The Republicans, led by Sen. Robert A. Taft and later incited by Sen. Joseph McCarthy, were almost never off his back but they couldn't keep him from winning election to the presidency on his own in 1948, almost single-handedly.

He got along miserably with Congress, partly perhaps because of the lack of eloquence which might have given him broad public support, partly because of that tart tongue, partly because he was a little bit ahead of Congress in knowing the times.

He made mistakes — "right on all the big things, wrong on most of the little ones" was an early description of him — but he didn't brood over them because he was trying to do his best and he had a lot of decisions to make.

No one ever took over the presidency had such enormous burdens dumped on him. He had to finish World War II, he had to lead the country through reconversion after the war and back to some kind of normalcy, he fought the Korean War, and throughout most of the seven White House years he had the cold war.

His performance at home was zig-zag, often dilapidated, although much of this was due to a clumsy, stumbling, short-sighted Congress, controlled by his own Democrats most of the time.

But in foreign affairs he changed history, certainly American history, for he led this country out of isolationism once and for all. After the Soviets gathered Eastern Europe into their nest, Truman stopped communism cold.

His aid to Greece and Turkey started it. Then came the Marshall Plan which saved Western Europe from chaos, then the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and in Asia the Korean War. As a beginning of the new internationalism Truman took this country into the United Nations.

His total presidency was one of the greatest chapters in American history.

Five years ago a poll of 75 American historians ranked Truman among the near great presidents. Ahead of him in the great group were Presidents Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Thomas Jefferson. Among the near greats they put Andrew Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt and James K. Polk ahead of Truman.

Last year, in his book "Presidential Greatness," Thomas A. Bailey decided Truman was no better than an average president. This writer believes the historians, including Bailey, are muddled by time. They're talking without a perspective. They're saturated in the details and lives of the long-dead presidents.

Historians of the future will probably consider it ludicrous that Truman was ranked behind Jackson, Theodore Roosevelt and Polk and, perhaps, Wilson.

It should be no surprise if that ordinary man, Truman, who sometimes used gutter language in public, is ranked among the great presidents.

Junior Women's Club Sponsors CARE Week

Mayor Ben H Gordon has designated May 7-13 as Circleville CARE Week. Sponsored locally by the Circleville Junior Women's Club, the annual program is currently promoting aid to the Philippines.

The Circleville Junior Women's Club, an affiliate of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is comprised of 35 young women from the community. Primarily a service organization, the local club strives to promote the educational and cultural merits of the community, the state, and the nation. It also extends its efforts in the interests of world peace through material assistance to less fortunate parts of the globe via CARE.

CARE, the Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere, Inc. is a non profit agency for voluntary assistance to the needy in other lands.

Gateway to Friendship, the junior project of the CFWC has thus been undertaken in cooperation with CARE. This worthwhile self-help program will aid the people in the barrios (villages of the Philippines to a more productive way of life. It will permit Philippine families who are leaving overcrowded urban areas and unproductive land to settle in the barrios. Trained Filipinos apply their skills to aid this resettlement, but they need outside help to accomplish their purposes.

Contributions will provide livestock and seed to increase food production and construction material for buildings. In addition, the program will provide tools and school to help the Filipinos build toward a better world.

CARE has had an active mission in the Philippines since 1949 and has been responsible for numerous humanitarian projects. These have stimulated them and as a direct result there is widespread activity in many areas with numerous community action programs.

In this work CARE cooperates closely and actively with other local, regional and national groups to produce maximum results. Thus every dollar provided is multiplied many times over.

Mrs. Robert Hedges and Mrs. David T. Hoffman, co-chairmen for the Circleville project, announce that the public will have the opportunity to share in the work of CARE on Saturday, when members of the Junior Women's Club will receive contributions in the downtown area and at various other strategic locations throughout the city.

Members of DKG Attend Luncheon

Members of Beta Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society who attended the Alpha Nu Chapter luncheon at the Lancaster Country Club Saturday were: Mrs. James Scott Mrs. Florence Baker, Miss Amy Miga and Miss Jeanette Townsend.

Guest Speaker Slated for Circle 6 Meet

Circle 6 of the First Methodist Church will meet 8 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Wiley Anderson, 1195 Lone Pine Road.

Dr. V. D. Kerns will be the guest speaker.

The Farm Bureau Women's Committee's Spring Tour will be held on Wednesday, May 24th. The group will leave the Pickaway County Fair Grounds promptly at 9:45 a. m. and journey to the first stop which will be the Lindenhof Restaurant in German Village. A slide program of the village with full narration will be shown.

After lunch, there will be a bus trip of the village, ending at the Old World Bazaar with an opportunity to browse in this quaint shop.

At 2:00 p. m. the group will tour the Center of Science and Industry. Here the Nickelodeon and the Planetarium will be points of interest.

The group will leave Columbus at 4:00 p. m. and arrive back at Circleville at 4:45 p. m. The cost of the trip includes the luncheon. Cleveland Indians Will Let Tomahawk Fall Soon

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul put his finger on the problems. The solutions were more elusive.

"Right now our problem is simply that we're not scoring enough runs," the Cleveland Indians' president said.

"We have no momentum and our confidence is shaken," Paul added. "We have no margin for error. But things have got to get better and they will."

The Indians dropped two straight to the Chicago White Sox before they were rained out Sunday. Chicago will be in town to make it up as a night game July 12.

The Tribe has lost four of its last five and hasn't scored a run in 16 innings.

Asked if he planned to make a trade, Paul said, "I can't try any harder. I've tried and I'm trying as hard as I can." He did not say who was on the block.

Manager Joe Adcock indicated there might be some lineup changes for Tuesday night's game with Detroit, but he wasn't saying where.

Sam McDowell, who was scheduled to pitch against the White Sox Sunday, will go against the Tigers in the opener and Sonny Siebert is scheduled for Wednesday night.

After that, the Indians start an 11-day eastern trip with the first stop at Washington.

Cardinals Lose Game To Cubs, 5-4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

With one batted ball, St. Louis' Curt Flood gained a record, but the Cardinals lost the game.

The ball, hit by Don Kessinger in the ninth inning, skidded off Flood's glove in center field and drove in Clarence Jones with the run that gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory Sunday.

The play, however, was ruled a single for Kessinger, and center fielder Flood had his 206th consecutive game without an error, a National League record.

"I'll probably never forget that play," said Flood, who hasn't made an error since he fumbled Harvey Kuenn's single Sept. 2, 1965, also against the Cubs at Wrigley field.

"It would have been a heck of a catch had I been able to make it. Sure, it's good having the record, but it would have been much better having a victory to go along with it."

Bob Gibson struck out the first two Cubs in the inning with the game tied 4-4, but Jones batted for rookie pitcher Rich Nye and doubled. Kessinger, not considered a long ball hitter, then drove a liner over Flood's head in center.

The 5-foot-9 speedster turned, raced back and leaped in the air, but the ball struck his glove and fell away as Jones scored the winning run.

The 29-year-old Flood didn't grab it, but he did snare the record. Tony Gonzalez of Philadelphia held the old mark of 205 consecutive errorless games, compiled between 1961 and 1963.

Don Demeter holds the major league mark of 266, set with Philadelphia and Detroit from 1962 to 1965. Demeter, however, had 449 chances—putouts and assists—in his streak. Flood already has 506.

He would prefer, however, that total to be 507.

In the only other game played in the National League, Atlanta defeated Cincinnati 5-3. Rain inundated Houston at New York, Los Angeles at Philadelphia and San Francisco at Pittsburgh.

In the American League, Detroit blanked Baltimore 4-0, California shut out Washington 5-4,

Atlanta Braves Defeat Cincinnati Reds, 5-3

ATLANTA (AP)—Atlanta second baseman Woody Woodward carried an .043 batting average into Sunday's game but emerged the "big man". He delivered two key run-scoring singles and the Braves beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-3.

These were only the second and third hits of the season for Woodward, benched April 18. He might not have played Sunday if Felix Millan had not come up with a sore heel.

The Reds were without the services of two key players, Tommy Helms and Deron Johnson. They were injured in Saturday afternoon's game with the Braves, which the Reds won 4-3.

Johnson pulled a hamstring muscle in his left leg when he stepped in a hole between third base and the pitcher's mound. Helms suffered a bone fracture of the right big toe when his spikes caught on the infield grass, causing him to fall.

Helms' fracture was not discovered until Sunday. He'll probably be sidelined a week. The foot, swollen almost twice normal size, was not placed in a cast. "The doc told me a shoe would serve just as good a purpose," Helms said. "I've gotta keep it on ice as much as possible."

Frank Beard Beats Palmer By 1 Stroke

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Beard, the Louisville, Ky., slugger of the fairways, can only say that what he has done on the pro golf tour this year is beyond "my wildest expectations." Twice, he has won tournaments by beating Arnold Palmer with birdies on the last hole.

Beard, 28 just a week ago, dropped an 18-footer for a bird Sunday to beat Palmer, golf's alltime money winner, by one stroke to win the $115,000 Champions International Golf Classic.

Three weeks ago, he did the same thing—sink a last-ditch birdie—to beat Palmer in the prestigious Tournament of Champions. He picked up $23,000 here and $20,000 in Las Vegas.

Winning second, Palmer banked $13,800 for a total of $87,073 on the 1967 tour. Masters champ Gay Brewer, No. 2 on the list, finished out of the money, at 296. Doug Sanders, third, withdrew the last day because of a cold.

Beard has won a total of $54,987 in 1967. Last year, he won $66,041.

PITCHING—Jim McGlothlin, Angels, hurled a two-hitter for his first major league shutout in California's 5-0 victory over Washington.

BATTING—Woody Woodward, Braves, drove in two runs with a pair of singles, breaking a prolonged slump and leading Atlanta past Cincinnati 5-3.

Only new players with major league experience with the Cleveland Indians this spring are outfielders, Lee Maye, who hit .288 with Houston last season, and Willie Smith, who hit .185 with the Angels.

Johnson said he believed he could play Tuesday night against the Mets in New York, but Manager Dave Bristol said he may keep him out of the lineup a while longer. The Reds were idle today.

Woodward stroked both his singles off Jim Maloney, who suffered his second defeat against one victory.

His second inning hit put the Braves ahead 1-0. His safety in the fifth climaxed a decisive two-run rally that broke a 3-3 tie as the Braves won their first game of the season from the Reds.

Pete Rose and Tony Perez clouted homers for Cincinnati.

Maloney lasted 5 1-3 innings, giving up all five runs and all 10 of Atlanta's hits. Relievers Don Nottebart, Darrell Osteen and Ted Abernathy held the Braves hitless the last 3 2-3 innings.

The winner was Pat Jarvis, now 3-0, with relief help from Phil Niekro.

SCO Tracksters Win Races at Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, O.—Greenfield McClain's high stepping distance duo of Dan Babington and Arnold Robinson won the mile and the two-mile races at the Chillicothe Invitational track meet Friday.

Babington paced the mile in 4:38. If he can maintain that speed at the South central Ohio League track meet Tuesday at Wilmington, a new league mark will be established.

Robinson set a new invitational record in the two mile with a time of 10:07.2, well below the SCO record of 10:42.6.

Virgil Workman, undefeated Washington C. H. high hurdler, won the event at the invitational with a clocking of 15.6.

Third Rowing Title Goes To Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Marietta's rowing Pioneers stayed home to win their third straight Mid-America Regatta championship this year.

The three-year-old event was held Saturday on the Ohio River here, and Marietta crews scored repeat victories in all four races. Purdue rowers were the runners-up four times.

In the varsity race over the 2,000-meter course, the Pioneers trailed Purdue until about the halfway mark, then pulled steadily away to win by 1 1/4 lengths. The winning time was a record 5:49.6.

The Mid-America event was held on the Wabash River at Lafayette, Ind., its first two years.

The races were marred by all-day rains that made currents on the river strong. About 1,000 spectators turned out nevertheless.

The closest race of the day was in the junior varsity test, won by the Pioneers by three feet over the Boilermakers. Freshmen and lightweight varsity were the other divisions.

Hawkeyes Win 4-2 Over Minnesota

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's Hawkeyes aren't exactly pressing for the Big Ten baseball crown but they have raised the hopes of a few teams who are still considered contenders.

The Hawkeyes did it by scoring a 4-2 victory over previously undefeated Minnesota Saturday.

The loss left Minnesota with a comfortable 8-1 record and a two-game lead over Wisconsin which gained valuable ground by scoring a double victory over Indiana, 6-1 and 4-1.

Ohio State, the defending champion, rebounded with 5-0 and 1-0 triumphs over Northwestern to pull within 2 1/2 games of the leaders and a virtual tie with Michigan. Michigan and Purdue were rained out Saturday.

Boston beat Minnesota 9-6 and Kansas City halted New York 4-1 before bowing 8-3. Rain stopped Chicago at Cleveland.

The Cardinals had tied the game only minutes before Kessinger's single when Mike Shannon led off the top of the ninth with a homer. Orlando Cepeda homered earlier for St. Louis, his fourth of the series, and Ernie Banks connected for Chicago.

Atlanta got some surprise hitting from Woody Woodward, who was starting for the first time since April 18 when he was benched for weak hitting. Woodward drove in two runs with a pair of singles, his second and third hits of the season. Pete Rose and Tony Perez homered for Cincinnati.

Cleveland Indians Will Let Tomahawk Fall Soon

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul put his finger on the problems. The solutions were more elusive.

"Right now our problem is simply that we're not scoring enough runs," the Cleveland Indians' president said.

"We have no momentum and our confidence is shaken," Paul added. "We have no margin for error. But things have got to get better and they will."

Thinclads dropped two straight to the Chicago White Sox before they were rained out Sunday. Chicago will be in town to make it up as a night game July 12.

The Tribe has lost four of its last five and hasn't scored a run in 16 innings.

Asked if he planned to make a trade, Paul said, "I can't try any harder. I've tried and I'm trying as hard as I can." He did not say who was on the block.

Manager Joe Adcock indicated there might be some lineup changes for Tuesday night's game with Detroit, but he wasn't saying where.

Sam McDowell, who was scheduled to pitch against the White Sox Sunday, will go against the Tigers in the opener and Sonny Siebert is scheduled for Wednesday night.

After that, the Indians start an 11-day eastern trip with the first stop at Washington.

Cardinals Lose Game To Cubs, 5-4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
With one batted ball, St. Louis' Curt Flood gained a record, but the Cardinals lost the game.

The ball, hit by Don Kessinger in the ninth inning, skidded off Flood's glove in center field and drove in Clarence Jones with the run that gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 victory Sunday.

The play, however, was ruled a single for Kessinger, and center fielder Flood had his 26th consecutive game without an error, a National League record.

"I'll probably never forget that play," said Flood, who hasn't made an error since he fumbled Harvey Kuenn's single Sept. 2, 1965, also against the Cubs at Wrigley field.

"It would have been a heck of a catch had I been able to make it. Sure, it's good having the record, but it would have been much better having a victory to go along with it."

Bob Gibson struck out the first two Cubs in the inning with the game tied 4-4, but Jones batted for rookie pitcher Rich Nye and doubled. Kessinger, not considered a long ball hitter, then drove a liner over Flood's head in center.

The 5-foot-9 speedster turned, raced back and leaped in the air, but the ball struck his glove and fell away as Jones scored the winning run.

The 29-year-old Flood didn't grab it, but he did snare the record. Tony Gonzalez of Philadelphia held the old mark of 205 consecutive errorless games, compiled between 1961 and 1963.

Don Demeter holds the major league mark of 266, set with Philadelphia and Detroit from 1962 to 1965. Demeter, however, had 449 chances—putouts and assists—in his streak. Flood already has 506.

He would prefer, however, that total to be 507.

In the only other game played in the National League, Atlanta defeated Cincinnati 5-3. Rain inundated Houston at New York, Los Angeles at Philadelphia and San Francisco at Pittsburgh.

In the American League, Detroit blanked Baltimore 4-0, California shut out Washington 5-4,

Atlanta Braves Defeat Cincinnati Reds, 5-3

ATLANTA (AP)—Atlanta second baseman Woody Woodward carried an .043 batting average into Sunday's game but emerged the "big man". He delivered two key run-scoring singles and the Braves beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-3.

These were only the second and third hits of the season for Woodward, benched April 18. He might not have played Sunday if Felix Millan had not come up with a sore heel.

The Reds were without the services of two key players, Tommy Helms and Deron Johnson. They were injured in Saturday afternoon's game with the Braves, which the Reds won 4-3.

Johnson pulled a hamstring muscle in his left leg when he stepped in a hole between third base and the pitcher's mound. Helms suffered a bone fracture of the right big toe when his spikes caught on the infield grass, causing him to fall.

Helms' fracture was not discovered until Sunday. He'll probably be sidelined a week. The foot, swollen almost twice normal size, was not placed in a cast. "The doc told me a shoe would serve just as good a purpose," Helms said. "I've gotta keep it on ice as much as possible."

Frank Beard Beats Palmer By 1 Stroke

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Beard, the Louisville, Ky., slugger of the fairways, can only say that what he has done on the pro golf tour this year is beyond "my wildest expectations." Twice, he has won tournaments by beating Arnold Palmer with birdies on the last hole.

Beard, 28 just a week ago, dropped an 18-footer for a bird Sunday to best Palmer, golf's alltime money winner, by one stroke to win the $115,000 Champions International Golf Classic.

Three weeks ago, he did the same thing—sink a last-ditch birdie—to beat Palmer in the prestigious Tournament of Champions. He picked up $23,000 here and $20,000 in Las Vegas.

Winning second, Palmer banked $13,800 for a total of $87,073 on the 1967 tour. Masters champ Gay Brewer, No. 2 on the list, finished out of the money, at 296. Doug Sanders, third, withdrew the last day because of a cold.

Beard has won a total of $54,987 in 1967. Last year, he won $66,041.

Baseball Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITCHING—Jim McGlothlin, Angels, hurled a two-hitter for his first major league shutout in California's 5-0 victory over Washington.

BATTING—Woody Woodward, Braves, drove in two runs with a pair of singles, breaking a prolonged slump and leading Atlanta past Cincinnati 5-3.

Only new players with major league experience with the Cleveland Indians this spring are outfielders, Lee Maye, who hit .288 with Houston last season, and Willie Smith, who hit .185 with the Angels.

Johnson said he believed he could play Tuesday night against the Mets in New York, but Manager Dave Bristol said he may keep him out of the lineup a while longer. The Reds were idle today.

Woodward stroked both his singles off Jim Maloney, who suffered his second defeat against one victory.

His second inning hit put the Braves ahead 1-0. His safety in the fifth climaxed a decisive two-run rally that broke a 3-3 tie as the Braves won their first game of the season from the Reds.

Pete Rose and Tony Perez clouted homers for Cincinnati.

Maloney lasted 5 1-3 innings, giving up all five runs and all 10 of Atlanta's hits. Relievers Don Nottebart, Darrell Osteen and Ted Abernathy held the Braves hitless the last 3 2-3 innings.

The winner was Pat Jarvis, now 3-0, with relief help from Phil Niekro.

SCO Tracksters Win Races at Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, O.—Greenfield McClain's high stepping distance duo of Dan Babington and Arnold Robinson won the mile and the two-mile races at the Chillicothe Invitational track meet Friday.

Babington paced the mile in 4:38. If he can maintain that speed at the South central Ohio League track meet Tuesday at Wilmington, a new league mark will be established.

Robinson set a new invitational record in the two mile with a time of 10:07.2, well below the SCO record of 10:42.6.

Virgil Workman, undefeated Washington C. H. high hurdler, won the event at the Invitational with a clocking of 15.6.

Third Rowing Title Goes To Marietta

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Marietta's rowing Pioneers stayed home to win their third straight Mid-America Regatta championship this year.

The three-year-old event was held Saturday on the Ohio River here, and Marietta crews scored repeat victories in all four races. Purdue rowers were the runners-up four times.

In the varsity race over the 2,000-meter course, the Pioneers trailed Purdue until about the halfway mark, then pulled steadily away to win by 1 1/4 lengths. The winning time was a record 5:49.6.

The Mid-America event was held on the Wabash River at Lafayette, Ind., its first two years.

The races were marred by all-day rains that made currents on the river strong. About 1,000 spectators turned out nevertheless.

The closest race of the day was in the junior varsity test, won by the Pioneers by three feet over the Boilermakers. Freshmen and lightweight varsity were the other divisions.

Hawkeyes Win 4-2 Over Minnesota

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa's Hawkeyes aren't exactly pressing for the Big Ten baseball crown but they have raised the hopes of a few teams who are still considered contenders.

The Hawkeyes did it by scoring a 4-2 victory over previously undefeated Minnesota Saturday.

The loss left Minnesota with a comfortable 8-1 record and a two-game lead over Wisconsin which gained valuable ground by scoring a double victory over Indiana, 6-1 and 4-1.

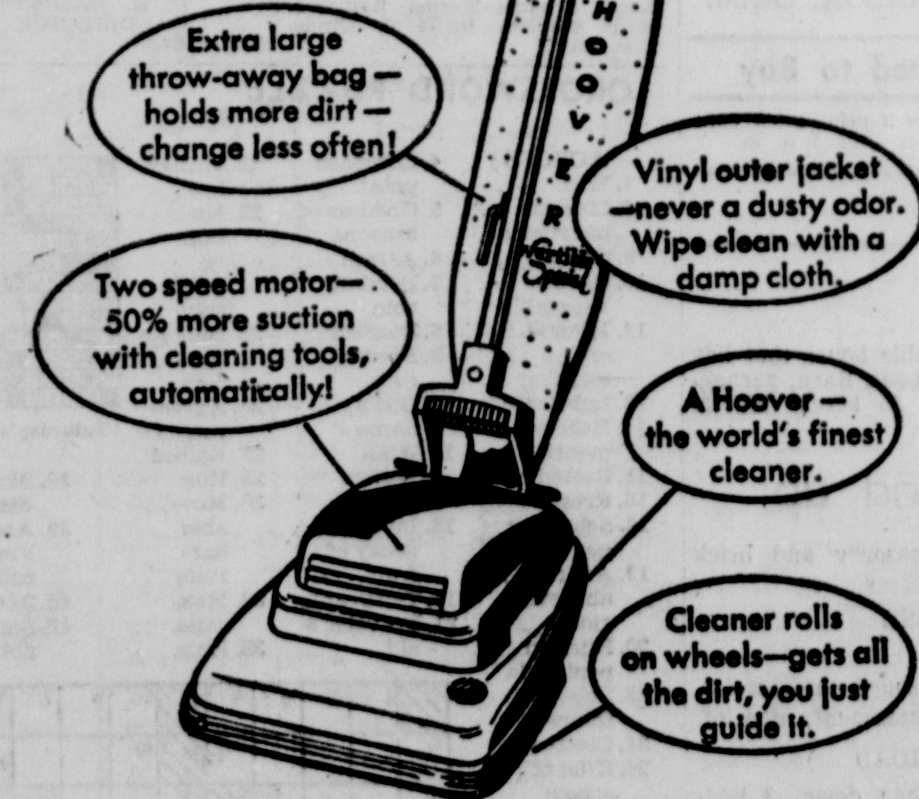

Ohio State, the defending champion, rebounded with 5-0 and 1-0 triumphs over Northwestern to pull within 2 1/2 games of the leaders and a virtual tie with Michigan. Michigan and Purdue were rained out Saturday.

Boston beat Minnesota 9-6 and Kansas City halted New York 4-1 before bowing 8-3. Rain stopped Chicago at Cleveland.

The Cardinals had tied the game only minutes before Kessinger's single when Mike Shannon led off the top of the ninth with a homer. Orlando Cepeda homered earlier for St. Louis, his fourth of the series, and Ernie Banks connected for Chicago.

Atlanta got some surprise hitting from Woody Woodward, who was starting for the first time since April 18 when he was benched for weak hitting. Woodward drove in two runs with a pair of singles, his second and third hits of the season. Pete Rose and Tony Perez homered for Cincinnati.

Proud Clarion Finishes First in Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Proud Clarion did his homework so well that just a fraction more than two minutes after the Kentucky Derby started, school was out for 13 other top 3-year-olds.

"He's kind of delicate, nervous," trainer Lloyd (Boo) Gentry said Sunday morning in the Churchill Downs stable area while discussing John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm-owned winner of Saturday's 93rd running of the Derby.

But Boo's father once told him how to calm a temperamental thoroughbred, and Boo remembered. He schooled him in the paddock.

This means taking a horse to the paddock, getting him ready as if he were going to race and then letting him listen to the crowd noise before returning him to the stable.

The noise didn't bother Proud Clarion Saturday, and his competition didn't either.

The 30-1 shot stormed over the 1 1/4 miles in 2:00 3/5, finishing a length in front of Barbs Delight with 8-5 favorite Damascus another 1/4 lengths back.

Only two colts, Northern Dancer in 2 minutes flat in 1964, and Decidedly in 2:00 2/5 in 1962, have run the Derby faster, and only two have rewarded their backers better than Proud Clarion, who brought a mutual win payoff of $62.20. Donerail won at $184.90 in 1913 and Galahadion at $72.40 in 1949.

Proud Clarion's victory caused the only commotion of note on a rainy day at the Downs as demonstrations by advocates of an open-housing ordinance failed to materialize.

Some 2,500 National Guardsmen, city, Jefferson County and state police were on hand to insure a smooth running.

Something else also happened to Proud Clarion in the paddock 15 minutes before the race. For the first time he came face to face with Robert Nelson Ussery, 32, the man who was to ride him into a permanent place in racing lore.

Ussery didn't get the mount until 48 hours before the race and then he had to get released from a riding assignment at another track.

Proud Clarion, who Gentry said would have been purchased for $50,000 less than two months ago, was a non-winner at two years old and never had won a stakes before Saturday.

The 3-year-old puzzle could start falling in place at Pimlico May 20. That's when Proud Clarion, Damascus and some of the other Kentucky Derby colts will hook up with some who passed up the Derby in the $150,000-added Preakness.

The latter group included once-beaten Dr. Fager; Tumi-ga, unbeaten in six career starts including Saturday's Carter Handicap at Aqueduct; Florida Derby winner In Reality, and possibly Flamingo winner Relected Glory.

Proud Clarion Finishes First in Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Proud Clarion did his homework so well that just a fraction more than two minutes after the Kentucky Derby started, school was out for 13 other top 3-year-olds.

"He's kind of delicate, nervous," trainer Lloyd (Boo) Gentry said Sunday morning in the Churchill Downs stable area while discussing John Galbreath's Derby Dan Farm-owned winner of Saturday's 93rd running of the Derby.

But Boo's father told him how to calm a temperamental thoroughbred, and Boo remembered. He schooled him in the paddock.

This means taking a horse to the paddock, getting him ready as if he were going to race and then letting him listen to the crowd noise before returning him to the stable.

The noise didn't bother Proud Clarion Saturday, and his competition didn't either.

The 30-1 shot stormed over the 1 1/4 miles in 2:00 3/5, finishing a length in front of Barbs Delight with 8-5 favorite Damascus another 1 1/4 lengths back.

Only two colts, Northern Dancer in 2 minutes flat in 1964, and Decidedly in 2:00 2/5 in 1962, have run the Derby faster, and only two have rewarded their backers better than Proud Clarion, who brought a mutual win payoff of $62.20. Donerail won at $184.90 in 1913 and Galahadion at $72.40 in 1949.

Proud Clarion's victory caused the only commotion of note on a rainy day at the Downs as demonstrations by advocates of an open-housing ordinance failed to materialize.

Some 2,500 National Guardsmen, city, Jefferson County and state police were on hand to insure a smooth running.

Something else also happened to Proud Clarion in the paddock 15 minutes before the race. For the first time he came face to face with Robert Nelson Ussery, 32, the man who was to ride him into a permanent place in racing lore.

Ussery didn't get the mount until 48 hours before the race and then he had to get released from a riding assignment at another track.

Proud Clarion, who Gentry said would have been purchased for $50,000 less than two months ago, was a non-winner at two years old and never had won a stakes before Saturday.

The 3-year-old puzzle could start falling in place at Pimlico May 20. That's when Proud Clarion, Damascus and some of the other Kentucky Derby colts will hook up with some who passed up the Derby in the $150,000-added Preakness.

The latter group included once-beaten Dr. Fager; Tumga, unbeaten in six career starts including Saturday's Florida Handicap at Aqueduct; Florida Derby winner In Reality, and possibly Flamingo winner Reflected Glory.

Solons To 'Face Music' Tuesday and Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's lawmakers will divert their attention from more serious problems Tuesday and Wednesday for initial "hearings" of would-be official state songs before the House Interstate Cooperation Committee.

The committee will listen to nearly three dozen compositions offered in bills carrying the name of almost every one in the 99-member House.

Indications are that the lawmakers aren't really that interested in coming up with a state song. But...

"When you get one of these things from a constituent, what else can you do but introduce it?" one disgruntled representative asked. "Believe me, some of them are pretty bad."

Both houses scheduled action on bills at floor sessions tonight opening the legislature's 18th hearings are on tap later in the week, including six sessions in two days for the House Finance Committee considering the administration's $4.9 billion two-year operating budget.

Chairman Ralph E. Fisher of the Ohio Department of Education and the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction are among major agencies slated to appear at sessions beginning Tuesday.

Some observers predict the big money bill may come to a vote on the floor of the House within two weeks. That would give the Senate about five weeks to consider the document needed to run the state for two years starting July 1.

The House called for a vote tonight on measures to increase Ohio's harness and running horse race season 15 days and to increase the penalty for distributing obscene literature to minors under 18.

The Senate scheduled votes tonight on measures requiring revenues from state parks to go into a separate rotary fund and relieving the highway director of certain functions in workmen's compensation cases.

Yanks Spared Hanoi During Four Month Try

The 10 points covered such topics as halting hostilities, independence of South Vietnam, the principle of U. S. willingness to withdraw forces when that independence was assured and the role of elections in organizing the government in the South.

There was also provision for discussing Hanoi's terms for a peaceful settlement as well as any other peace terms that might be thrown into the talks.

President Johnson and his advisers, quickly notified by Lodge, were interested in the possibility a serious opportunity for negotiations might be at hand. Polish diplomats had already told Americans they believed Hanoi was about ready to hold secret exploratory talks even though the bombing continued.

President Johnson decided that with some clarification the 10-point statement could serve as a basis for talks with North Vietnam.

In about 48 hours Rusk instructed Lodge to inform Lewandowski that the United States was ready to talk and was interested in clarification. He also told him the United States was prepared to shift the contact to Warsaw and to meet there with a representative from North Vietnam.

One point stated the United States would not insist that North Vietnam acknowledge publicly the presence of its forces in South Vietnam. The Johnson administration decided this should be clarified to require that if the troop issue was to be covered up for face-saving purposes then the North Vietnamese forces should be withdrawn from the South.

Lewandowski was informed of this and other clarification points. The others seemed mainly matters of wording. But this one was obviously substantial.

In Warsaw, President Johnson's ambassador, John A. Gronouski, received instructions making him the U. S. representative and briefing him on U. S. Vietnamese policy.

Gronouski met with Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki and found Rapacki strenuously objected to any clarification on any of the 10 points. Rapacki warned against wrecking the whole action at the outset.

Between Polish and U. S. versions of the incident there is some difference at this point. The Polish view has been reported to be that the United States wanted to get its clarification before the secret talks opened. The Washington version is that the United States was making known its desire for clarification in the talks.

Rapacki's strong resistance to the clarification proposal caused some concern in Washington where officials were not sure the Poles had any commitment from North Vietnam to go into the talks. Some high officials here doubted that Rapacki was in fact relaying U. S. views and readiness for talks to Hanoi.

Before any North Vietnamese representative showed up for the meeting, U. S. planes carried out the Dec. 13-14 raids on the outskirts of Hanoi. Some planes, at least, flew directly over the heart of the city. Antiaircraft fire was heavy and North Vietnamese fighters rose to the defense. Some explosives fell in the city proper.

Thereupon, North Vietnam raised a protest — which stirred up angry demonstrations in many countries — that the United States had deliberately bombed the civilian population of Hanoi. U. S. denials fell on skeptical ears and did little to quiet the worldwide uproar.

Washington stated that one or two planes had in fact jettisoned their bombs over the city when they were attacked but officials insisted heatedly that no civilian bombing was ever deliberate.

Shortly after the Dec. 13-14 incident Rapacki reportedly told the United States that North Vietnam had made clear it no longer was interested in the planned talk because of the bombing of Hanoi. Soon afterward this Polish version of the collapse of the plan was made public informally by diplomats.

U. S. officials publicly refuted the charge but privately said that while the attack at Hanoi might have collapsed the Polish plan it might also have presented Hanoi or Warsaw with a convenient excuse for not going through with it.

Some officials here felt the Warsaw government had overrated the chances of Hanoi's agreeing to talk.

The United States sent word to Rapacki through Gronouski, that it would not bomb inside the circle of 10 nautical miles around the city of Hanoi and that this should get the Polish plan back on the track. According to these sources, Rapacki went back to Hanoi, but Hanoi said no.

Johnson decided to make the Hanoi no-bomb ring something more than simply an effort to revive the Polish plan. He sent word to North Vietnam through various channels that the United States was not only interested in opening peace talks but also was interested in practical steps to scale down the war.

No responsive action was asked of the North Vietnamese. But they were informed that if they wished to make any move in any area of the war to curtail military operations, the United States would be alert and responsive. U. S. officials say North Vietnam never picked up the offer.

The climax came in early February when President Johnson personally sent Ho Chi Minh a letter making a new proposal for secret talks and offering to halt all bombing of North Vietnam if Ho would stop infiltration and military supplies from North to South.

The President's letter constituted a personal rejection of Ho's demand for unconditional stoppage of the bombing. Ho, in reply, renewed his call for an unconditional halt in the bombing of the North.

In March, Ho made public his exchange of letters with Johnson for reasons unknown here.

Ho's publication astonished and greatly discouraged U. S. leaders. They interpreted the act as evidence that he was turning his back on peace moves indefinitely.

Old Glory Will Wave At Museum

DAR To Provide American Flag, Pole; Contract Awarded

The American flag will fly over the Pickaway County Historical Museum! This has been assured by the Pickaway Plains Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Judd H. Dresbach, regent, advised the society that the Chapter will provide a flag pole and a large flag for the "Clark-May home at Union and Scioto Sts. which will be restored as a museum. The DAR is donating the national emblem as a part of its continuing effort to display the American flag over all public buildings.

The museum, as an exemplification of the past, will be a means of saving and displaying many items connected with our historic heritage, society spokesmen said.

Historical Society members today expressed appreciation for the most generous and appropriate gift.

Harford Renick, chairman of the building committee, also announced the awarding of a contract to Floyd Weller, local contractor, with work to begin within a few days on the restoration project.

General project supervision will be under Lester Gamble, consultant to the society. Building committee members in addition to the chairman are Lincoln Mader, Dwight Steele, Robert Smith and Paul Johnson.
